CUE CRC

Hello Cue,

May has been an extremely busy month for both the town and the Cue CRC. We've had several events in Cue.

The weekly craft group on Wednesdays has been well-attended with Lydia demonstrating how to spin silk on one of the days. This was very interesting. Join us every Wednesday from 9am for Craft Group.

Department of Transport visited twice in May and will be back at the Cue CRC again on 12th June from 1.00pm.

Services Australia was on hand on 31st to help anyone with any Centrelink, Medicare or other queries in regards to Services Australia.

The June Cricut workshop is going ahead on Sunday 11th June with a couple of participants already booked, so we have a few places available. We look forward to seeing you.

The Cancer Council's Biggest Morning Tea was a welcome surprise to everyone with the high numbers of people willing to join in the fun. Donations and cake sales raised $1074.20 for cancer research. Next years event will hopefully be bigger and better than this years and we hope to start raising money earlier with weekly cake sales at the CRC.

Once again the markets attracted a lot of attention from passers-by and travellers staying in town. There were about 7 stalls for the May markets with one or two being from people who were here just for a day or so. As a result there was an abundance of choice when it came to buying that unusual gift or something a bit quirky. It was an extremely successful market with new acquaintances mad and new ideas discussed for future events. June Sunday Markets are on the 25th and we hope to have another successful event.

On another note I took some time off in May to visit with my sister who came up from Bunbury. We did a bit of travelling and visited Big Bell and Walga Rock. My sister and her family were really impressed with Walga Rock, but commented on the lack of signage and advertisement. My sister loved the old buildings here in Cue as much as I do, and I was lucky enough to show her the old bank building which she was totally impressed with.

Holidays are never long enough, are they? You always have to go back to work.

CHC NEWS

The CHC has excitedly taken delivery of five new glass display cabinets. They are in three different sizes, have lights and are lockable. The cabinets were donated by Evolution Mining after a visit from the senior Exploration and Geologist Managers in April last year. The need for more cabinets was discussed and a proposal submitted shortly afterwards which was approved. Although the process was quite drawn out the payment was gratefully received in March this year.

Gardner Mining was instrumental in the collection of the cabinets from Perth and they were delivered to the CHC immediately after the Anzac Day breakfast. Their significant contribution saved the heritage centre almost $14,000 in freight costs.

Norm from Cue Roadhouse helped to unload the large crates with their forklift into the CHC and other volunteers helped to unpack them. It was a collaborative effort from start to finish and appreciative thanks are extended to the following:

- Alan Hawkins and Cameron Meiklejohn from Evolution Mining
- Darren, Sam and Leo from Gardner Mining
- Norm Lyon and the Cue Roadhouse
- Harry, Daryl, Jade, Robert, Georgia and Luke from the Shire of Cue
- Fabian from Shop for Shops for his endless support

FROM THE CEO

Numbers are steadily building at the Tourist Park with first time visitors joining long-term regulars for the season ahead. Whether for pleasure or prospecting, I hope your stay is both relaxing and rewarding.

The Cuerosity Shoppe has moved back to the Murchison Traders building at 59 Austin St. The Senior Citizens group in conjunction with volunteers from the Cue Tourist Park are doing a great job of cleaning the premises, moving all the stock and getting it ready to re-open which is expected to happen any day now. The area designated for the community gymnasium is currently being cleaned up and works are expected to start soon to bring this space to life.

I would like to express a big thank you to all the emergency services, volunteers and Westgold for their efforts and contributions to the search for a prospector that was missing near Lake Austin for five days. It was great to hear the person was found alive and well.

We had a great turn out to our events held in May, around forty people attended the Musical Bingo night hosted by Mad Danny. There were loads of great prizes, some Karaoke and plenty of dancing to shake off the cold weather. Plans are underway to host another one in July and we hope you can join us for it.

Over fifty people attended Snowy and the Seven Cool Dudes who performed at the Shire Hall on Tuesday 23 May 2023. The Shire provided beef and gravy rolls and the audience enjoyed a slap stick comedy based on the fairy tale with plenty of audience interaction with the kids and sharing some life lessons.

Congratulations to the Community Resource Centre for hosting another great Biggest Morning Tea to raise money for the Cancer Council. It was a fabulous turn out of people and food. Over $1,000 was raised on the day for cancer research.

The Cue Aerodrome is currently undergoing works to prepare the runway for sealing. Shire workers have been busy shaping and rolling the base course in preparation for the sealing crew that are due to arrive on 6 June 2023. The Cue Aerodrome will be closed from 6 June 2023 and reopening on 14 June 2023 while the sealing works are being undertaken.

A number of Shire roads are waiting on repairs caused by a recent rain event. Road users are asked to take care when travelling, particularly at flood crossings. Please drive to the road conditions and observe any traffic directions. Road Condition Reports are available on the Shire of Cue's website cue.wa.gov.au and also our Facebook page.

We would like to get a social game of lawn bowls up and running at the Shire Hall. If you are interested in joining us, call Tracy at the Shire Admin on 9963 8600 for more details.

On the 25th May 2023, the Cue CRC had its Biggest Morning Tea. We raised $1074.20 in all for cancer research, with the help of many volunteers.

I would like to thank the Cue CRC staff for their invaluable help before, during and after the event.

The Cue CRC would like to thank Westgold who donated 4 large cakes and some muffins, Joyce from the Queen of the Murchison B & B for her donation of food and help in the kitchen, Cue Roadhouse, Tracy Bachraty, Jenni Dennis, the ladies staying at the Tourist Park for their generous donations of food and the monetary donations of everyone who attended.

POLICE BEAT

Hello Cue

My apologies for failing to write an article last month. I could say that we were out of town helping our neighboring towns when they need it but I actually had a week on the Abrohlos with friends not catching fish because of the wind. One good day out of seven was horrible fishing weather.

Being tourist season its back to the time of searching for lost prospectors who are unsuitable to prospect because of either their health or their preparedness or a bit of both.

One of my colleagues who assists us to search for lost prospectors said to me, if you want to get lost while prospecting, go out by yourself, don't take any water, suitable warm clothing, GPS, Epirb, sat phone or someone with you and don't tell someone where you are going, you will sure enough get lost and the worst could happen.

So follow these rules if you're a keen prospector, which I know a lot of you are.

Make sure you are fully equipped:

Go walking with your best mate.

Tell someone where you are going and go there.

Take water and food in your back pack

Wear the right clothing, it does get cold out in the bush. (Reflective strips like the mining companies help us find you at night with the plane)

Take a GPS and Sat Phone.

Take some food and water.

Make sure your car is suitable

Take a box of matches so you can build a fire and you are easier to find.

Consider your own health first

If you realise that you are lost, DON'T keep walking in hope, STAY WHERE YOU ARE and make sure we can see you easily from a plane.

Have a great month everyone.

Mark, Pete and Joe.

CUE SCHOOL

RESILIENCE : RESPECT : RESPONSIBILITY

Our little school just seems to get busier and busier. We are seeing good results continue with our reading curriculum and the home reading program continues to gain momentum thanks to Mrs M.

Afron and Noah were two of our hard workers this week.

We were all so glad to here the wonderful news of the successful search and rescue mission just south of Cue. We must thank all those who gave their time to assist and let them know we appreciate what they do for our community.

Cue School had a surprise visit from some of the search party and our students got to feed them and ask questions. Clover, Bubbles, Ink and Dakota were very satisfied with our oval's grass after four days working in the bush.

Cue School were fortunate last week to have Lorin Nicholson come from Queensland to work with our students in Room 2, the Deadly Futures class and students from Pia Wadjarri Remote School. With his entertaining guitar playing and stories of his challenges & achievements growing up blind, the students really engaged in leadership and team building sessions that he delivered. Lorin also performed in a community concert that was well attended. There were many comments from attendees about how motivational they found it. Thank you to all who attended, your support is a big part of what makes our school successful.

Lorin worked with staff as well, highlighting the need to get to the core problem learning problem to really help students learn.

COUNTRY STARGAZING

with Carol Redford and Donna Vanzetti, Astrotourism WA

Have You Seen the Emu In The Sky?

One of the most incredible objects to see in the night sky is the Aboriginal constellation of the Emu In The Sky. It lies within the band of the Milky Way and its shape is outlined by dark areas of the night sky, not the stars. The Emu is best seen throughout winter in dark country skies and is spectacular, spreading right across the evening sky.

To find it, first locate the Southern Cross constellation above the southern horizon. Two bright stars directly above due south are, “the Pointers” to the Southern Cross. The Southern Cross is to the right of “the Pointers”.

On the left-hand side of the Southern Cross, try to find a dark oval shape, called the Coalsack Nebula. This is the head of the Emu with the beak pointing downward. The long neck stretches to the left through the middle of “the Pointers”. The body and legs of the Emu stretch halfway across the horizon towards the east.

When to look: 8.30pm, mid-June.

Which direction to look: South.

South Western Australia’s Indigenous people lived by six seasons. When the Emu is seen high in the sky, it indicates weather is changing and getting colder and wetter. This season is called Makuru and was a time to move inland for sheltered locations. Campfires formed the heart of communities, providing warmth and a place to gather for music and storytelling.

Another beautiful cosmic view to enjoy will be on the 22nd June when Mars, Venus and the Moon make a close approach together. The three celestial objects will form an almost perfect equilateral triangle in the western sky. The evening star Venus, the red planet Mars and the lovely thin slither of the Moon will make a spectacular site in the twilight sky.

When to look: Sunset to 8.00pm on the 22nd June.

Which direction to look: North west.

Review of the Biosecurity and Agriculture Management Act

Let's talk.

Last chance to have your say

Comment closes 5pm 30 June 2023

The Biosecurity and Agriculture Management Act 2007 is one of WA's most important pieces of legislation.

It helps protect our multi-billion dollar food and fibre industries, as well as our unique environment, communities, cultural heritage and lifestyle, from destructive pests, weeds and diseases.

An independent panel is reviewing the BAM Act to make sure it continues to support our biosecurity system into the future.

Have your say on the opportunities for reform.

Thank you to Jally Entertainment for a fun family night.

CUE RAILWAY STATION

Has anyone been up to the Railway Station building at night, lately? If not you should go and have a look at the awesome lighting arrangement created by Shane Baker from Access Electrical Contracting.

Next on the list of display lighting is the camels coming into Cue from the south. Keep an eye out in the coming months for what will be another excellent lighting display.

The Cue Railway Station was built in 1898, a year after the railway was opened. The railway line was closed in 1978 and there are no remnants of the line within the Cue town-site.

However, the railway station and its platform still stands today and is now the location of the town oval and being used for the Cue Youth Centre.

PASTORAL COMMUNITY BAITING PROGRAM

Local station owners got together at Yarraquin Station on 26th May to undertake a community baiting program. The control of wild dogs has been a continuing problem in the region and is the prime reason why the sheep and wool industry is almost non-existent in the Southern Rangelands region. The Shire of Cue is very supportive of the measures pastoralists take to control the dog problem. Financial support from both the State and Federal Government has been limited over time and the Murchison Regional Vermin Council (MRVC) has been instrumental in securing Government funding to complete the construction of a vermin proof fence around 52 stations in the region.

It is hoped that the Murchison will one day see a thriving wool and sheep industry return and contribute to the local economy. For now the control of wild dogs is an essential part of that goal and is designed to enable pastoralists to look to the future with some optimism and confidence.

7 GOLDEN RULES OF PROSPECTING

Put safety first

- Make sure you have enough water, fuel, maps and first aid supplies.
- Give serious consideration to taking some form of telecommunications and a global positioning system to fix locations, and a Personal Locator Beacon (PLB) – it may turn out to be your most important safety device.

Obtain a Miner's Right permit

when prospecting on vacant Crown land.

3.

Obtain a 40E permit

prior to prospecting within an exploration tenement (if you don't have written permission from the tenement holder).

Get written permission from the tenement holder when prospecting on:

- a mining lease;
- an exploration licence (if you don't have a 40E permit); or
- a prospecting licence.

Comply with all legal requirements

when prospecting on a pastoral lease. You cannot prospect within 100 metres of any occupied building or within 400 metres of any livestock watering point without the consent of the pastoralist.

Show respect when on Crown land because it is used by other people or set aside for many purposes.

7.

Fill any holes

that you dug and repair ground that has been disturbed.

The most common prospecting permit used by tourists visiting Western Australia is a Miner's Right. This permit allows holders to prospect on Crown land with hand-held tools (such as a metal detector) and to take and keep samples or specimens up to 20 kilograms.

A Miner's Right permit can be obtained from any Mining Registrar's office for a prescribed fee per person.

Permit holders need to be aware that Crown land can be used for many purposes and should respect the rights of others.

To learn more about the different permits and permissions required for prospecting in Western Australia, please refer to the Seven Golden Rules for Prospecting (left).

For more information about prospecting, please visit your nearest Mining Registrar's office to obtain a copy of Prospecting in Western Australia or download it from: www.dmirs.wa.gov.au/prospectingwa

To find your nearest Mining Registrar's office, please consult the list on the back page of this brochure or visit: www.dmirs.wa.gov.au/regionaloffices
